NEW FARM LOAN
POLICY STATED
BY OFFICIALS

Will Make Loans As Quickly and
As Safely As Possible, Says
W. B. DeNault

FAVORS SMALL LOANS

Expect to Sell Second Block of Real Estate Bonds at Lower Rate of Interest

With instructions from the Industrial Commission "to get the money out as safely and efficiently as possible and only to actual farmers on a conservative basis," Wilbert D. DeNault, newly-appointed manager of the farm loan department of the Bank of North Dakota already has the wheels of organization turning in the department to that end.

Mr. DeNault has taken over a department badly disorganized, and he hopes to have it running smoothly within a very short time, expanding from a skeleton organization as rapidly as possible. Mr. DeNault, who brings to the department 23 years experience in the farm loan business in North Dakota, believes the department will be able to make some loans within 30 days and to be loaning money to farmers on a substantial basis by February 1.

The farm loan business will be handled on a conservative basis from the very start, Mr. DeNault emphasized today. No loan will be made exceeding 50 per cent of a conservative value of the land on which the loan is made, as determined by competent and disinterested appraisers. Governor Nestos and Mr. DeNault both particularly emphasize the necessity of guarding the funds of the state through careful appraisals on this basis.

The first concern in making loans will be to help those farmers who need help most, it is stated. Mr. DeNault has some definite ideas of the proper manner in which to make loans for the good of the state and in the interests of the successful conduct of the department.

Priority Recommendation. In considering applications Mr. DeNault will recommend to the Industrial Commission giving priority to loans to be used in redeeming farm land foreclosures where the redemption period will soon expire. Such applications would thus have first opportunity to get loans.

Loans will be made only to actual farmers living in North Dakota and farming their own farms. Mr. DeNault believes his law is equitable, that the person owning a farm who has other means of livelihood should stand aside while the actual tiller of the soil is served.

Mr. DeNault also believes that it is for the better interest of the state to make many small loans rather than a few large ones. He does not believe that any loan should be made for more than $10,000. While going through his inventory Mr. DeNault pointed to an application for a $30,000 loan in Bottineau county. That loan probably will not be made, Mr. DeNault said, because the owner of that land probably is not in nearly so great need of a loan as many a farmer desiring $2,000 on a small farm.

Outlining in a general way the cardinal principles which will guide the conduct of the farm loan business, Mr. DeNault emphatically emphasized that "no one will be considered for the position of appraiser who has not already demonstrated his ability over some years of experience." His rule will be to seek out the man with ability in his line. The job appraiser will not be a political plum, he emphatically declared.

Administration Policy. The administration policy, settled after numerous conferences, is that loans will be made with conservative safety as the first and primary requisite and as speedily as possible. There are now available several hundred thousands of dollars for making farm loans. Three million dollars worth of bonds will be delivered as fast as the money can be used up in farm loans. New bonds will be issued as soon as this amount of money is exhausted.

No false hope is held out by Mr. DeNault or the administration. Mr. DeNault found when he went on the job here this week that there was a total of $4,381,090 of unappraised loan applications on hand in addition to $1,894,600 appraised applications approved by the old administration, and not yet closed into loans, a grand total of about six and one-fourth millions. The department, which had been re-opened shortly before election, was disorganized when Mr. DeNault took it over this week. Until recently there had been but one clerk and one stenographer on the job. With the great number of applications already on hand, with appraisals to be made and scores of other details in connection with the loans to be worked out, it will probably take several weeks to get the department well organized and functioning properly.

There is, however, the confident expectation on the part of the administration that several million dollars will be loaned out before the winter is over, and that when the new real estate bonds are sold the interest rate will be lower than that provided in the bond contract of the former industrial commission.

LETTER FROM DEVILS LAKE

Washington, Dec. 8.—Eleven members of the American Expeditionary forces were hanged in France after conviction by a military court-martial. Col. Walter B. Bethel, assistant judge-advocate general of the army, testified today before the senate committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France.

DEVILS LAKE MAN WRITES. Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—Writing from Devils Lake, N. D., Dr. W. D. Jones, in a letter to Senator Watson, of Georgia, read during the hearing before the senate committee on the charges that private soldiers were hanged in France during the war without a court martial, declared his son, a marine, had told him of the case of a negro soldier being hanged without court martial. The cause of the hanging was the negro's actions toward a French girl, he wrote.

MISQUOTED, HE SAYS. Fargo, N. D., Dec. 8.—Dwight D. Jones, son of Dr. W. D. Jones, who was mentioned in a Washington dispatch as having told the elder Jones of the execution of a negro soldier in France without court martial, today said he did not remember having made such a statement, and if he did make such a statement he had no first-hand information of such a case. Jones said he had repeated the story of the execution of a negro soldier for an attack on a French girl, but he said he did not intimate that the action was without court martial.

POLICEMEN ARE ATTACKED

Chief of Police Says That Situation Will Be Controlled and Rioting Stopped

CALL FOR TROOPS. Albert Lea, Minn., Dec. 8.—Mayor William Wohlmuter and Sheriff Peter Fosse today wired Governor Preus at St. Paul asking that troops be sent here immediately to break the picket line which was thrown about the Wilson & Co. plant here to prevent men going to work.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Fifteen hundred policemen were sent to the stockyards early this morning when long before daylight several groups of persons gathered around the yards.

Only a few hours before 200 policemen had fired into thousands of strike sympathizers who attacked plant employees and finally the policemen. Last night's toll of casualties included nine seriously injured and an uncounted number when mounted police charged into the crowd with drawn bayonets.

Saloons in the vicinity of the yards were closed today by order of Chief of Police Fitzmorris. The chief said that the rioting would be stopped at any cost.

"The women are more difficult to deal with than the men," Chief Fitzmorris said this morning. "They carry red pepper and throw it in the policemen's eyes. Tacks have been scattered through the adjacent streets in an effort to stop the motor policemen. But we're going to control the disorder in this strike. We may have to use every available policeman in the city and then call upon the reserves, but we'll do it."

'WET' NEWSPAPERS ARE ASSAILED

Washington, Dec. 8.—"Wet newspapers" were described as the Anti-Saloon league yesterday as the first step to complete enforcement of prohibition by a military court-martial. Superintendent P. A. Baker, behind this obstacle, he said, are "judges, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys, mayors and city solicitors" who seem not to have learned that the 18th amendment has been adopted.

Rev. Mr. Baker referred to the query attributed by Lord Northcliffe during his recent visit of "when does prohibition begin in this country?" as "impudent" and declared that the British publisher returned home "to publish false strictures" on the subject.

"Publicists of the Northcliffe type," he said, "will greatly aid to the moral standards of this republic by staying home."

Washington, Dec. 8.—Rep. Henry D. Flood, Democrat, of the Tenth Virginia district died at his home here today. Heart trouble from which he had been suffering for several weeks was the cause. His death occurred shortly before noon.

Mr. Flood was serving his eleventh term in Congress. As chairman of the house foreign affairs committee he introduced the resolution declaring existence of a state of war between the United States and Germany and Austria-Hungary. His home was in Appomattox, Va., and he was 36 years old. He was in the house immediately after adoption of resolution of regret over his death.

COMMON THOUGH
LINEN ASSERTS
HEALTH OFFICER

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 8.—A strange interpretation of the state law prohibiting the use of the "common towel" in public places has been received by state health officials from a hotel proprietor in a small town. A small notice was served on him that he must discontinue the use of "a common towel" in his inn.

In an indignant protest he replied that he did not use "common towels" but had his wife make a special trip to Philadelphia to purchase a linen one. State health officials disagree with his interpretation of the law and have notified him to discontinue the common towel even if it is linen.

LOOK TO E. DE VALERA

Belfast, Dec. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—The members of both houses of the Ulster parliament considered the Irish agreement at a meeting of private conference it was announced that Sir James Craig, the premier would leave for London tonight.

Dublin, Dec. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—The Dail Eireann cabinet assembled here today to consider the treaty signed in London by the Sinn Fein and British delegates, creating an Irish free state. Its action is fraught with great significance as it is expected to develop for the first time the real attitude of Eamon de Valera and his counselors toward the treaty on which the Republican leader has thus far steadfastly refused to comment.

The public maintains the same semblance of indifference toward the agreement not when the news was first received. The people seem generally satisfied but refrain from expressing their feelings in any outward demonstration appearing to be waiting for somebody to give the lead as if not quite certain what attitude to take.

Ulster's attitude on the plan is awaited with interest here.

Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 8.—The Lake submarine S-48 sank off this harbor last night and was submerged for 12 hours before the crew by lightening the ballast tank raised one end of the craft to the surface and escaped through the torpedo tube.

MAKE REMARKABLE ESCAPE

New York, Dec. 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Fifty-one members of the crew of the submarine S-48 who escaped through torpedo tubes after their craft had made a nose dive off Bridgeport harbor yesterday and stuck to the bottom told a remarkable story of rescue on their arrival at the New York Navy yard.

According to a report made to the commandant they lightened one end of the submarine until it appeared above the surface and then sat perched on this pinnacle for more than ten hours until after darkness had fallen. Then by lighting matches they attracted the attention of a passing tanker which picked them up and brought them here.

Several of the men as well as Lieutenant Francis Adams Smith were found to be suffering from the effects of chlorine gas created by salt water flooding storage batteries. After examination, however, only three were detained at the hospital.

Fargo, N. D., Dec. 8.—Leland C. Williams, of Golden Valley county, declared to be owner of the "largest still" still ever captured in America. This sentence was given by Judge Amidon in federal court yesterday with a fine of $500. The jail sentence will be served at Beach.

Williams came to Fargo unattended, paying his own expenses. His hired man, Lawrence Gagneau, was with him. The latter was fined $25. Williams described to officials how he went into the whiskey making business on a large scale and how it cost him his wife's companionship. He said that he had two stills, one 340 gallon capacity and one 100 gallon capacity in his ranch near the Montana line. He had purchased a Washington, Dec. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—The Japanese government has accepted the proposal for a quadruple understanding in the Pacific, an authorized British spokesman said today.

The British spokesman said the 5-5-3 ratio proposition with regard to capital ships was in some way related to a complete settlement and that this proposition had not been accepted by the Japanese government.

Calling attention to an Associated Press dispatch from Honolulu quoting a Japanese newspaper as to acceptance by the Tokio government of the quadruple plan the British spokesman said this was correct and that the Washington conference knew it to be correct.

HAIL WARRANTS
ASSIGNABLE BUT NOT NEGOTIABLE

Assistant Attorney General
Makes This Interpretation of the Law on Them

THEIR STATUS DEFINED

Status of hail warrants is defined in an opinion given the state hail insurance department by George F. Shaffer, assistant attorney-general, in which Mr. Shaffer holds that hail warrants are assignable but not negotiable instruments.

The hail department has heretofore viewed the warrants as negotiable. According to Martin S. Hagen, manager, there have been no cases in which there has been a conflict over the subject, but it was desired to have the matter clarified. Greater protection is afforded the state through the ruling. Mr. Shaffer's opinion, expressed in a letter to Mr. Hagen, follows:

"We have had under consideration your letter in which you advise that the hail department holds that warrants in payment of state hail indemnity are negotiable instruments and direct irrevocable obligations on the state hail insurance fund, and asking the office for an opinion on the legal merits of that holding.

"We are clear that this holding is erroneous. It is the uniform rule that municipal warrants are not negotiable instruments. The supreme court has held in at least three cases that school warrants, township warrants and county warrants are not negotiable."

"The supreme court of Washington and Nebraska have applied the same rule to state warrants, and we have no doubt that the same principle announced in these decisions would apply with equal force to hail insurance warrants.

"Of course, while these warrants are not negotiable, they are nevertheless assignable the same as other warrants; but assignees or endorsees thereof for value before maturity, or any purchaser thereof would have taken them subject to all defenses which the department could assert against the original payee. It follows, too, that such warrants are revocable obligations, the right of rescission and cancellation existing whenever proper grounds are shown as a basis therefor."

SUGGEST TEST OF HAIL LAW

Suggestion has been made to state officials by a firm of Chicago lawyers that the question of the constitutionality of the 3-cent flat tax for hail indemnity be tested out in the courts. The firm, Wood and Oakley, expressed the opinion that the tax was constitutional. Their action followed a visit to Chicago by Charles Merry, of Dickinson, seeking to make a deal for the sale of a large amount of hail warrants.

Funeral services for G. N. Stewart, World War veteran, were held yesterday afternoon at Driscoll in the community hall, and were attended by scores of friends and former service men. The Bismarck Legion post was represented by its commander and vice-commander, bugler and firing squad.

Mr. Stewart was killed at Grand Rapids, Minn., by a falling tree and his body brought to the home of his loved ones in Driscoll. He was born in Scotland, came to this country as a boy with his parents, and had seen much service in the United States forces. He was with the Fleet on its cruise around the world, was with the Marines at Vera Cruz and served in the World War.

Full military honors were accorded him by the Legion men.

MOVING PICTURE INDUSTRY TO BE REVOLUTIONIZED

"PHOTO-PHONE" ALSO MADE

Urban, Dec. 7.—With the moving picture industry receive a revolutionary addition through a scientific discovery made at the University of Illinois, basic patents for which are held by this institution.

It seems possible that this discovery will make the movies of the future talk, so that there will no longer be the "silent drama," says an official announcement, issued today by the university.

The announcement continues: "The scientific discovery is that of an extremely sensitive and reliable photo-electric cell, made about two years ago in the physical laboratories of the University by Professor Jakob Kunz. The incident is a good example of the unexpectedness by which some great discovery may be made years in advance before it can be practically used."

"The photo-electric cell is a device for turning flashes of light into electric pulses and is so sensitive that it reacts to light from stars which cannot be seen with the naked eye. Because of this extreme sensitivity the photo-electric cell promises to displace the selenium cell which has been used up to the present time in experiments carried on to produce speech to accompanying moving pictures."

"A Swedish scientist has developed a device which he calls the 'photo-phone' by which such speech is more or less perfectly produced. This is done by having a second film on the same spindle as the moving picture film, on which are photographed various curves and openings corresponding to the words which are to accompany the pictures. A beam of light sent through this film falls upon a selenium cell. The selenium cell depends upon a discovery made many years ago that the metal selenium changes its electric resistance when light falls upon it. It is thus possible to get variations in an electric current by letting the beam of light from a speech photograph film fall upon such a cell. These variations act in a telephone to reproduce speech."

"The selenium cell is much inferior to Dr. Kunz's photo-electric cell in transforming light waves into electric pulses. The photo-electric cell is not only much more sensitive, but it has no lag; that is, it responds immediately to a light wave even after hours and days of use. The selenium cell is not only not as sensitive but it has the disadvantage of having this lag or lagitude.

Dr. Kunz has been working to save the effect of light on certain metallic salts such as potassium and sodium, said the head of the department. A layer of any of these metals when in a vacuum of certain low pressure gases gives off negative electricity, that is, a current of electricity can be produced by sending a beam of light fall upon a film of potassium which is properly prepared inside of an exhausted glass bulb. The current passes across the exhausted space to a loop of platinum wire which leads to the outside circuit. When the electric current is very slight it can be amplified by methods which are well known today in electronic circuits and so the size of the current is no detriment to the use of the photo-electric cell.

Just as the little currents, which were set up at Arlington Cemetery on Armistice Day by President's Harding's voice were magnified and reproduced thousands of miles away so can these little photo-electric currents be magnified and produce sounds in loud speaking telephones.

It is therefore logical to expect that the scientific discovery of a sensitive and reliable photo-electric cell will be used to give us the perfect photo-phone of the future."

FURTHER REVISION IS ASKED

By Sec. Mellon of the Tax Laws
—Also Reports on Revenue Revision

Washington, Dec. 7.—Further revision of the tax laws, with a reduction of the maximum income surtax rates to 20 or 25 per cent and adjustment of the rates on business profits and estates is suggested by Secretary Mellon in his first annual report, transmitted today to congress.

The Treasury Secretary also announces that the Treasury's policy with respect to deferment of the soldiers' bonus is unchanged, and urges prompt funding of the ten billions of dollars of foreign loans as "one of the outstanding needs of the present economic situation."

Utmost Economy
Mr. Mellon also informs congress that the maturity within the next 18 months of $6,750,000,000 of the short dated debt "makes it imperative that the government pursue a policy of the utmost economy and avoid new undertakings that would throw additional burdens on the treasury and embarrass the funding operations" with respect to the floating debt.

Revenue revision is the subject upon which the Secretary lays the most stress. He says the changes in the tax law voted by Congress last month, "gave substantial relief to business and industry and restored in some measure the freedom of business transactions but our system of taxation still requires careful and thoughtful consideration." He then proceeds to say that if the loss of revenue resulting from the reductions in surtax and other rates suggested cannot be made up by rigid economy in expenditures, it can be met either by placing a tax on certain specific articles or by a low rate general tax on a broad class of articles or transactions.

It is of vital importance, Mr. Mellon declares, that adjustment be made in our scheme of taxation whereby the burden will not fall unduly either directly or indirectly upon any particular class and at the same time will not seriously interfere with the productive industry and the general prosperity of the country.

Change Tax System
"It would not seem either wise or necessary to change from our present system of taxation to new and untried plans. By retaining the income tax with reasonable surtax rates, which in peace times ultimately should not rise above ten per cent, tax payers would still be required to contribute in proportion to their ability to pay, while by placing a certain amount of tax on specific articles, or classes of articles, or transactions, a so low rate that they could readily be borne without injury, the income tax could be materially simplified, the tax laws could be more readily administered and at the same time the needed revenues would be raised without the evil effects now resulting from the present excessive rates of taxation."

Mr. Mellon informs congress that the amount of revenue involved in the suggested reduction of rates, "is not nearly as great as is generally supposed."

Effect of Reductions
"To reduce the surtax rates to a maximum of 25 per cent and graduating the reductions through all the brackets," he says "would mean an apparent loss of about $130,000,000 in revenue. A 20 per cent maximum rate on the same basis would involve a revenue loss of about $200,000,000. Other adjustments which should be made would probably involve an amount equal to that made in the surtax rates. The loss of revenue, however, would not be permanent, for the reduced rates would ultimately be productive of more revenue than higher rates, due to the increase in taxable transactions."

Reiterating arguments that the effect of high surtax rates is to "keep new capital out of productive enterprise, and to prevent normal business transactions with the result that natural industrial development is retarded, Mr. Mellon adds:

"The idea seems to be prevalent that in taxing large incomes, only the person receiving the income, and who is to pay the tax is really concerned. This is a mistake. For whatever the government takes, in the way of tax, out of any income, which would otherwise be saved and invested, and thereby become a part of the capital and of the wealth of the nation, affects not so much the individual from whom it is taken as it does the whole people of the country. In the direct loss of productive capital.

"After all, the wealth of the country, upon which all the activities and the prosperity of the individual citizens—of all the people—and anything that unnecessarily takes away from the accumulated property necessarily injuriously affects the people as a whole."

Discussing the proposed adjustment of the tax on business profits, Mr. Mellon suggests no specific rates, but calls attention that the repeal of the excess profits tax made necessary an increase of 2 1/2 per cent in the corporation income tax and that this with the capital stock tax makes the total levy on corporations approximately 15 per cent.

Business Heavily Taxed

"When we remember," he writes, "that the great bulk of the business of the country, both large and small, is carried on under corporate form and that the net income must largely be distributed in dividends, and that these dividends are then in turn subject to surtax, in the hands of persons receiving them, it is at once seen that the resulting taxation to persons engaged in productive business is very heavy. For instance a stockholder subject to surtax at 10 per cent really pays about 25 per cent on his dividends; while a stockholder subject to a 50 per cent surtax would be taxed about 65 per cent on such profits."

Declaring that there were two "chief objections" to the present high estate tax rates, running up to 25 per cent on the total value of estates, Mr. Mellon says much of what he has said, respecting the high surtaxes applies equally to the estate taxes. Another objection he sets forth, is that in many instances, a forced liquidation of estates to obtain the necessary money to pay the taxes, result in loss to the estates as well as "to everyone else who is interested in these properties especially if at the same time they desire to or must sell."

Referring to the oft repeated statement that the tax laws need simplification, Mr. Mellon declares "that the greatest simplification that can be made is in the reduction of the rates."

"So long as the rates were low," he asserts, "There was not much difficulty in the administration of the law, even though the system was entirely new and the organization administering it, unfamiliar with the operation of such a law. The complexity of the law so far as it concerns the income tax, itself, has arisen largely out of the high rates which make every point that arises involve substantial amounts of money, and which means that each possible question is contested by the tax payers and by the government and resulting delay in the collection of the revenue irritation and annoyance and expense on the part of the taxpayer and costly litigation. With moderate rates, very much of this difficulty would disappear."

N. D. DEBATERS IN INTERNATIONAL CONTEST, MARCH

Representatives of Pacific Will Also Come Here For Debate Clash

SEVEN MEN ARE ON TEAM

Grand Forks, N. D., Dec. 7.—With prospects of debating teams of schools and colleges from the far ends of America, the seven men who will represent North Dakota in the debates of the year have "squared away" for the long grind of preparation which will extend almost to the end of the school year. In addition to meeting schools representing the colleges of the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, North Dakota will take part in one international contest when it meets the picked debaters of Manitoba University. This is one of the few meetings arranged in debate between the team of a Western University and one of the Canadian colleges. The contest will take place the first week in March.

Definite date also has been set for the meeting of the North Dakota debaters with the representatives of Occidental College, holders of the debating title of the Coast debating league. The representatives of the Pacific will come to North Dakota for this clash. Other debates, final details of which have not been arranged are in prospect with Bates College of Maine, and Pennsylvania State College at Grand Forks and with South Dakota at Vermillion. Negotiations are also under way for a possible meeting with a team from the University of Nebraska.

Seven men instead of six were selected for this year's debating team. Four of the men selected were members of the last year's team giving Prof. John Adams Taylor, coach of debating, a seasoned pair of men for each of his teams. The veterans are Hanson, Hlaason, Johnson and Muus. The seven men selected for this year's team, in alphabetical order, are:

Sam J. Aandahl, of Litchville, North Dakota. He is a freshman in the college of Liberal Arts. He was a member of the Los Angeles, California debating team last year and gained prominence in forensics at that place.

Eldon O. Hanson of Enderlin, North Dakota. A junior in the college of law. Member of the Delta Sigma Rho, national oratorical fraternity.

Carl A. Hlaason of Churchs Ferry, North Dakota. A senior in the college of law. President of the Forensic Board. Member of Delta Sigma Rho.

Gustaf A. Lindell of Washburn, North Dakota. A first year student in the college of law, and actively engaged in forensics in the University for the last two years.

Jalmer O. Muus of White Earth, Dakota. A senior in the College of Liberal Arts. Member of the national honorary literary society, Phi Beta Kappa and also Delta Sigma Rho.

McLain Johnson of Grandin, North Dakota. A senior in the college of Law. Member of Delta Sigma Rho.

Klerh Sanberg of Crookston, Minnesota. A freshman in the college of Liberal Arts. A member of the Minnesota State High School debating team last year.

N. D. SHIPS 8,701 CARS OF 'SPUDS'

About 3,000,000 Bushels Remain in State For Seed

North Dakota had shipped 8,701 cars of potatoes up to November 1st, according to figures supplied the North Dakota Good Roads Association by the railroads of the state. The belief of the roads was that most of the shipping had been completed at that time and that the most of the 3,000,000 bushels remaining in the state were for seed, for local consumption and a small percentage for spring sale. The amounts shipped, according to the figures given out represented about 6,000,000 bushels.

Hoople, in Walsh county was the largest initial potato market in the state, shipping a total of 514 cars or approximately ten trains. Taking the usual average of 700 bushels to a car, the shipments from this one town alone reached the high total of 359,800 bushels. Walhalla, almost on the Canadian border in Pembina county, is the second largest initial market with 390 cars or an approximate total of 273,000 bushels.

The large advance that has been made in the growing of potatoes in recent years in North Dakota is shown by the increase in Ward county which in 1919 planted 3,000 acres to potatoes. Last year the total was 7,000 acres and this year the same county again doubled its planting, the total acreage for the year being 15,000. Average earnings per acre for potatoes raised in North Dakota, according to the Good Roads Association figures, between the years of 1907 and 1920 was $37.92.

That North Dakota has not reached the limit of production nor the limit of its market was the opinion of W. E. Holbush of the Good Roads Association who has watched potato production for years from the standpoint of roads upon which to transport them, coupled with the necessity of swift transportation at the time of marketing to escape danger of frost. That North Dakota should take advantage of the westward movement of fruit cars, and consequent lower rates to compete with the western potatoes in Montana is also a firm belief of the local secretary.

BETTER MUSIC FOR OUR ARMY

Pershing After Practical and Theoretical Music

Washington, Dec. 7.—Army music soon will compare with that of the best orchestras and bands of the country. Popular music will be supplemented by the classical masterpieces and a superb band and orchestra will be created from army musicians.

General Pershing already has ordered the establishment here of the Army Music School and Walter Damrosch, conductor of the New York Symphony Orchestra, has pledged him assistance in work of organization. Both are determined through the school to elevate music in the army.

The object of the school, as outlined in the orders issued by General Pershing, "is to give courses of instruction in music, both practical and theoretical, elementary and advanced, to student-bandmen, to advanced instrumentalists (soloists), and to student-band leaders, to standardize and perfect band music, and to supply trained personnel there-in to meet, as fully as possible, the needs of the service."

The first move to better army music was made by General Pershing soon after he took over the office of Chief of Staff. One of his first actions was to transfer the school from Fort Jay, New York, to Washington and direct that it be reorganized as a "super-band," comparable only to the splendid band which was organized in France."

ULTRARADICALS WOULD CONTROL UNION BODIES

Many of These Leaders Are American Citizens But Take Orders From Moscow

Washington, Dec. 8.—The movement launched by the Third or Communist Internationale at Moscow to gain control of the trade and industrial unions throughout the world "is meeting with marked success in so far as it relates to syndicalist unions in the United States," says the first annual report today of Attorney General Daugherty.

Communist parties in this country, Mr. Daugherty says, have united to more effectively carry on propaganda and the policy is to endeavor to gain control of the labor organizations through the control of the executive committees or other governing bodies therein.

"Many of the leaders of this movement are American citizens," he says, "though they are subject to orders from Moscow as to their action and activities in the United States."

The attorney general says there has been a noticeable effort "upon the part of various so-called defense societies to propagate and carry on agitation in behalf of the ultraradicals in the United States."

"Inconspicuous individuals in the ultraradical movement apprehended locally," he asserts, "are martyred and propaganda started in their behalf, not only within the United States but throughout the entire world. In many instances the so-called defense organizations are found to be merely a camouflage for such movements as the United Communist Party which must conduct its activities underground."

Foreign propagandists still are flocking to the United States, according to the report, which notes that 457 of them arrived in the last fiscal year. The movements, the nature and the extent of the activities of these individuals have been carefully observed, it is stated, and the government has been kept "intimately informed."

"During the past fiscal year," the report continues, "the activities of foreign propagandists in the United States have been particularly noticeable and careful attention has been given to this pernicious form of work within this country. It is impossible to accurately estimate the vast amount of money spent in the United States by the foreign agents engaged in exploiting the American people and in creating interest in a support for movements and schemes entirely foreign to the interests of the American people."

Calling attention that activities of the federal government in dealing with ultraradicalism are limited by law to aliens, Mr. Daugherty notes that practically all of the states now have enacted laws defining and punishing criminal syndicalism and anarchy. These laws reach the citizen as well as the alien.

The dealing with ultraradicalism is only one of the many activities of the department of justice during the past fiscal year which are reviewed in the attorney general's report. He calls attention that while the department ceased last January its activities in the enforcement of prohibition, it is continuing to cooperate in this work.

The attorney general observes that "there has been no decrease in the number of illicit distilling cases since the enactment of the prohibition laws," and that "the court calendar in some jurisdictions have been overtaxed by this class of cases."

"Where the facts warrant," he says, "the offenders have been vigorously prosecuted, and it is hoped that this will result in a material reduction of such violations of the law."

Selective Service Act cases disposed of during the war numbered 1,803, the report says, the convictions numbering 143 with 130 pleas of guilty. Cases pending at the beginning of the last fiscal year numbered 28,087 and 1,321 new cases were begun.

Violations of the so-called disloyalty sections of the espionage act have greatly decreased, according to the report, which notes that only six cases were begun under the entire act during the fiscal year, while 41 cases were disposed of, 130 cases having been docketed at the beginning of the year.

Mr. Daugherty declares that as an organized system the white slave traffic has been broken up, but adds that a great many individual cases still exist with the department making every effort to break up this practice also. Complaints arising under the Peonage Act increased during the year, the report continues, "and peonage was found to exist to a shocking extent in Georgia, Alabama and some parts of Texas." Several convictions have been obtained and several prosecutions are pending, it is added.

Among his specific recommendations, the Attorney General asks for enactment of legislation:

Authorizing the appointment of two federal judges at large for each of the nine judicial districts in order to assist in clearing the congested court dockets;

Making it a criminal offense to send through the mails letters threatening injury to life or property;

Authorizing the presence of stenographers in grand jury rooms;

Making it a crime for a single individual to defraud or attempt to defraud the federal government in any manner, as the law now provides for the punishment of "two or more persons who conspire to defraud."

Making criminal an attempt to commit a crime against the United States, limiting the compensation to be received by referees in bankruptcy.

WOULD DECLARE OPEN SEASON ON BANK ROBBERS

Arentz Suggests That Shotguns Be Placed in all Business Places Near Banks

Chicago, Dec. 8.—The open season for bank robbers has arrived, according to Edward S. Arentz, head of the protective department of the Illinois Bankers' Association, who is laying plans to forestall what he describes as "the epidemic of bank robberies which is upon us." Mr. Arentz has outlined a plan of bank protection which he expects, if carried out, will minimize bank losses from hold-ups and burglaries.

Working through the county federations of the state bankers' organization, bankers throughout Illinois are being urged to take up the Arentz plan, which provides for appointment of a deputy sheriff for every bank in every town and organization of a vigilance committee in every large town. The captain of the committees also would be a deputy sheriff.

Mr. Arentz suggests that shotguns be placed in all places of business surrounding the bank, to be used in emergency.

A regular crew of four men, he says, should be stationed at the sheriff's office, with a high power automobile, ready to jump into the machine and speed to the scene of any bank hold-up or any other major crime. By proper arrangement with the telephone company, which would be furnished with a list of deputies, every deputy sheriff in the county would be notified and a guard thrown out to intercept travelers on all roads leading from the crime.

If the bandits have passed through the circle of deputies, other towns would be notified and the vigilance committee of those towns would then take up the chase.

Two counties, LaSalle and Du Page, have already approved the plan and appointed committees to work out its installation. Other counties are expected to take up the plans as soon as possible to work out details, according to Mr. Arentz.

YOUNG MEN OF THIS COUNTRY MUST TRAIN

To Be Fitted In Their Places In The National Reserve Says Weeks

Washington, Dec. 8.—Realization of the full measure of national defense preparations of the army awaits the moment when the American people "throw themselves wholeheartedly into the work," Secretary Weeks maintains in his first annual report, made public tonight.

"Plans now initiated for preparation for national defense contemplate a more complete state of preparedness than at any previous period in the peace time history of our country," Mr. Weeks says.

"We have provided a framework for defense prepared after careful study. We have an administrative body qualified to direct and control the constructive development of the frame work. And finally we have prepared the plans of development. All of this is, however, of slight value until the American people, who are the source of material for the body of our defensive structure, throw themselves wholeheartedly into the work."

"To insure success, they must lend financial support to the limit of the insurance demanded. The young men of the country must train themselves to be fitted into their places in the national reserve. The industries must prepare to co-operate in war time production."

"The American people have started along this path and they cannot afford to turn back."

"The present period, marking a transition from the high efficiency which we achieved during the World War at the cost of a great initial waste of life and treasure as the penalty of unpreparedness, must be characterized as one of the most important in our history by virtue of the duty which it imposes upon us of insuring that the lessons of the great war are not lost, but that they are perpetuated in enduring forms of organization and continuing policy."

MANDAN NOTES

Farm Bureau Holds Meeting

Much enthusiasm was shown at the annual meeting of the Morton county farm bureau held at Mandan on Tuesday. The plan of community work and better farming apportionment croppage as launched by County Agent George H. Ilse, such work to be carried on by the Farm Bureau locals, interested all those attending the meeting.

The officers of the organization, John Dawson, Strain, president; John Christianson, New Salem, vice president; John C. Smith, Mandan, treasurer, and Miss Gertrude E. Ness, secretary, were re-elected for the year.

The directors chosen for 1922 were Carl Schultz, Hebron; August Kattiske, Sweet Briar; Joe Unkenholz, Mandan; Ed Sawtell, Flasher; Paul Gwyther, Fort Rice; Mike Schmidt, Fallon; Martin Klein, St. Anthony, and Louis Hoerauf, Hebron.

Paul Gwyther of Fort Rice and John C. Smith were elected as delegates from the Morton County Farm Bureau to attend the state convention at Fargo which is called for December 29-30.

Enthusiasm marked the announcement of officers that the coming year is destined to be filled with important gains in the matter of better farming conditions and marketing. President John Dawson in his address to the meeting outlined a few of the plans for the coming year. Alex Mc-

Actual Facts on Home Building Costs

LUMBER is the most economical building material. It lends itself readily to distinctive architectural design, and, when properly used, LUMBER LASTS.

What is more, there is plenty of lumber. Lumber, if used without waste, will be available for years to come at comparatively low cost.

Of course the nation's timber supply must be conservatively used, but there is no reason why LUMBER should not continue to be, for our great grandchildren, what it was for our grandfathers—THE HOME BUILDER'S FAVORITE.

SKETCHED above is an attractive small house built in a typical American midwest community. This house in November, 1921 (exclusive of heating and plumbing), constructed of various materials, cost:

Frame with wood siding	$4080.00
Frame with cement stucco on wood lath	4177.00
Frame with cement stucco on metal lath	4213.00
Stucco on hollow tile	4627.00
Common brick (solid)	4717.00
Common brick with face brick front	5007.00

The cost of the interior construction—windows, doors, floors, partitions, trim, etc.—for this house remains constant regardless of the character of outside walls, but slight changes in detail of exterior finish are required to suit different materials slightly affecting cost. The cost of various materials when used for the enclosing walls is:

Type	Cost	Increase over Frame with Wood Siding	Percentage of total Building Cost
Frame with wood siding	$ 656.00		16 per cent
Frame with cement stucco on wood lath	709.00	5 per cent	17 per cent
Frame with cement stucco on metal lath	745.00	14 per cent	18 per cent
Stucco on hollow tile	1064.00	62 per cent	23 per cent
Common brick (solid)	1186.00	81 per cent	25 per cent
Common brick with face brick front	1436.00	119 per cent	29 per cent

T. R. CABIN WILL BE PROTECTED BY LOCAL D. A. R.

Plan to Enclose Cabin on Capitol Grounds With Fence in Near Future

Mrs. S. D. Cook, secretary of the Minishoshe Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has announced that the local chapter plan to have the work begun immediately for the welfare of the Roosevelt cabin.

Mrs. Cook issued the following statement:

"Following Dr. Farnham's delightful lecture of last week, the Minishoshe Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, feel that it may be of interest to many to make some statement of their plans and hopes for the restoration and care of the Roosevelt Cabin.

The question of the authenticity of the cabin in the Capitol grounds is often raised, but a careful study of all available authorities leaves no reasonable doubt that we have here the veritable cabin in which the young Roosevelt lived during a part of his ranch life. This relic which should be so carefully treasured, the more since we have few historical buildings here has served as a shelter for trash cans and has stood neglected through summer rains and winter blizzards for years. Apparently the only notice given it has been at the hands of vandals who have carved names and initials over every available foot of the logs of which the cabin is composed.

"Since it is a part of the purpose of the organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution to foster patriotism to work historical spots and to care for places and objects of historical interest shortly after the formation of the local chapter we applied to the state board of administration for permission to restore and care for the Roosevelt Cabin. This permission was very graciously and freely given, and we at once began the work of raising funds for the purpose. We were then informed that the plans for landscaping the Capitol grounds called for the removal of the cabin and its location at another part of the grounds. This work of removal would be done by the state, and until it was done it was inadvisable to have any repair work done on the cabin.

"When it became known that the care of the Roosevelt Cabin had been given into the hands of the D. A. R., and when no immediate action was taken, it became a source of mingled gratification and surprise to the chapter to note the intense interest in the welfare of the cabin which seemed to spring up over night.

Plans for Future

"We are now informed that the extensive landscaping plans for the Capitol grounds are ambitious dreams possible of complete realization only in the somewhat distant future. Therefore, we now intend to go ahead with the restoration of the cabin as rapidly as the weather and our funds will permit. The first thing to be done is to enclose the building with a strong but temporary fence to prevent any further defacement. We are so fortunate as to have received a photograph of the cabin in its original location on the Maltese Cross ranch. We hope to restore it both inside and out to its original appearance, and to furnish it as nearly as possible as it was furnished during the Roosevelt occupancy. We have also purchased a few treasured articles of its original furniture, notably the roughly carpenter's desk at which Teddy Roosevelt wrote while he lived in the cabin. I am sure that all citizens of Bismarck will join us in gratitude for such gifts, and in our efforts to make the Roosevelt cabin a fitting shrine for his memory."

Relieving the Blackness

(By Marian Hale)

New York, Dec. 8.—She rather loves it, and she's making the most of it—this black madness which has taken hold of the whole fashion world—but somewhere in the whimsical heart of midcity is a longing for something colorful, oh, so colorful! So vivid! Something to give wild accent to the darkness of the gown.

And she evolved the fascinating trick of lining the skirt of her dance gowns.

Jagged, scalloped hems of velvet costumes reveal the brightest colors imaginable—most of them in crisp taffetas.

This Poiret gown in black velvet, short at the front and back and hanging in sweepingly graceful lengths at the sides is lined with cherry taffeta. A cluster of lovely flowers at the low, draped waistline trail long sashes flitting flowers at the hem ends.

The bodice is a soft crushed thing of only half suggested lines and curves—girlishly graceful.

BAPTIST TROOP NO. 1

Our troop it seems, started something when they decided and let it be known they were to have a Scout Cabin. Work on it will begin next Saturday and with a crew of about 15 bunkies it won't take long to complete it. B. O. Ward has permitted the use of his land and we assure him if we can ever return the compliment in any way we hope that he will not hesitate to call on us.

We had our first basket ball practice last Saturday and hope to be in shape to play the Episcopalals soon. We do not under estimate their ability to play, neither do we wish to brag until it is over, but at any rate we'll promise to make them go home.

There were six applicants for membership last evening to fill two vacancies. None were agreed on at that time. With so many candidates it is contemplated organizing another or a fourth patrol. This however has not been voted on yet.

The Scout Orchestra, assisted by Miss Lina Mandigo and Mr. Gale, will give a concert at the church on Friday evening of this week at 8 p. m. sharp. There will be a great variety of numbers including several vocal solos by Mr. Gale. Everyone is most cordially invited.

AT YOUR SERVICE!
I am the Christmas Seal, the silent partner of Santa Claus.
I cost less and bring more happiness than any other Christmas gift you can make.
I am your gift to the unfortunate victims of tuberculosis, the dread disease which kills every third person between the ages of 15 and 60.

Paste me on all your Christmas letters and parcels. That will save lives that otherwise would be lost.
Every penny derived from my sale is turned over to the forces that fight tuberculosis. Thus every penny you spend on me is sure to help, sure to bring happiness to you and to the afflicted.
Buy me liberally and I shall continue to help the 10,000 American war veterans who are being treated for tuberculosis, also the thousands of other veterans and the millions of civilians who are helpless in the grip of the white plague without funds to aid them.

DEPENDS
George M. Pullman, founder of the Pullman Company, had a $500,000 home that in its day was the most richly furnished residence in the country.
The furnishings of the Pullman home are sold to settle the estate. A revolving Sevres vase goes under the hammer for $175. It cost Pullman $2500. And so on, the house stripped bare.
What is value? Economists says value is what it would cost to duplicate a thing. They are only partly right. Most value is sentimental, depending on the owner and circumstances. A starving, freezing millionaire in the Yukon would give his million for an ounce of bread and a small fire.

DECLINE OF THE DRAMA
Brady, theatrical producer, brings actors from England to play a high-grade drama by Galsworthy. No crowds. The actors are sent home. Brady laments the "decline of the drama," and says what the American people want are suggestive farces.
Brady is wrong.
Theaters couldn't hold the crowds that would flock to see high-grade theatrical productions if the price were right. Lots of people rush to see sex farces. But they, like the ones that pay $20 a quart for whisky, are in the minority.
The "decline of the drama" is due largely to the absence of a decline in price. The trouble is in the box office, not the audience.

WILL
The will of John McMullen left $2,000,000, the bulk of his fortune, to Cornell University. Relatives, who evidently expected the money themselves, go to law about it, contending that John must have been mentally incapacitated.
Legacies usually are curses, especially when large. The only money that really benefits man is that which he works for. Those who receive big legacies usually squander or lose them in bad investments—"shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations."

America might be better off if no one could inherit anything, except living expenses for wives and children. Few go to the dogs with money they had to work for.

STUPID
An interesting lawsuit in Boston discloses that a horse, seized in a bootleg raid 14 months ago, is still in custody and has eaten more than $600 worth of manger delicacies. Uncle Sam pays the bill.
The cost of government—taxation—is swollen like this. And there are many such. Red tape is the biggest item of Uncle Sam's expenses.

COMFORT
The greatest advantage of living in America is comfort. You can, as nowhere else on earth, have physical and religious freedom—comfort—without interruption from outsiders.
What we call "modern conveniences" are merely expressions of the American desire for comfort.

Contrast our clothes with Greenlanders, who constantly wear uncomfortable furs.
Is life getting too easy in our country? Too much ease is the road to decay.
REUNION
A family reunion at McAlester, Okla.
John Zieh met his wife, whom he had not seen for 10 years, and his daughter, whom he had never seen. Just when John thought he had enough money saved up to bring them on from Poland the war broke out and severed communications.
The first thing he did, when the family arrived in McAlester, was to take them to a store and buy them nifty American clothing. Then he started teaching them the American language.
Sensible John! The first thing in the making of a good American is the adoption of American ways, clothes, language and ideals.

WHILE YOU SLEEP
How old are you? Divide it by three and you have the number of years you have spent in bed.
A 60-year-old person, becoming philosophical, can look back and say: "Twenty years of my life have been devoted to sleep. Isn't that a shame? Life is too short."
Be not deceived. Sleep is not a waste of time. Sleep is nature's way of preventing us from killing ourselves by exhaustion. It is the system of relaxing our muscles so the body can rid itself of poisons that have accumulated during wide-awake hours.
Sleep rests the body and the brain. Dr. Boris Sidis decided that sleep is caused by monotony, that we do not sleep until wakefulness becomes uninteresting, boresema.

You give much thought to "how to live correctly."
But how much thought do you give to sleeping correctly?
You are awake two hours of every three. Those two hours you provide for carefully, striving for comfort, trying to devote them wisely.
The third hour—sleep—is taken as a matter of course. You make little provision for it—just tumble into bed and go into a near-cataleptic state.
Sleep should be a science, as much care and study given to it as to the hours you spend awake.
First of all, your bed should be comfortable—just as comfortable as possible, regardless of price.
Your mattress and springs should be soft enough to make sinking into bed a delight, yet stiff enough to support evenly the body in all its curves.
If your pillow doesn't "set" just right, something is wrong with it—too many feathers or not enough—and your health is suffering.
Use just enough covers to keep you comfortable, adding to or taking from them, in line with the weather, not the seasons.
Most important of all, open every bedroom window to provide plenty of fresh air. Place the bed out of a draft.
If you waken fagged out in the morning, something is wrong with your way of sleeping. Either that, or you are following the perilous road of not enough sleep.
Your efficiency will be doubled if you get sufficient sleep in a comfortable bed with plenty of fresh air. It's like recharging batteries and allowing an over-heated engine to cool.

EDITORIAL REVIEW
Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.
THE FARMER ARISES
The growth of farmers' co-operative associations was outlined in a dispatch to The Courier-Journal yesterday from Washington, which stated that these organizations did a business last year of $375,000,000, as against a total of $60,000,000 for 1919.
The four main heads under which the science of economics is studied are: production, consumption, exchange, distribution. The rise of large corporations long ago systematized distribution. The sale of products and their transportation are organized to a point approaching perfection. Exchange, too, is a function which operates efficiently through the medium of banks.
Even consumption has been subjected to organization with the rise of co-operative buying corporations. In the field of production, which includes everything that is produced from corn to adding machines, practically every producer is organized except the farmer.
It can be seen that this age is primarily one of intelligent combination, of large forces working toward a common end. The laboring man began to see this a hundred years ago, when the trades union was first recognized by the British government. The farmer, naturally conservative and aloof by nature, must follow suit if he is to glean the greatest benefits for his labor.—Louisville Home Journal.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem
And Make It Snappy

Do your Christmas shopping early!
Later on the crowds grow surly.
And the row,
So get busy—the time is flying—
And the rush and crush are trying.
If you're planning Christmas buying
DO IT NOW!
Do it now! Procrastination—
Means much wrath and indignation
And a lot of perspiration.
On your brow:
Listen, Buddy. Listen, Girlie!
These the words of wisdom dearly
Do your Christmas Shopping Early.
DO IT NOW!
Duck the fierce last-minute flurry
When the shop-girls' eyes grow blurry.
You can spare them half that worry.
This is how:
Have a heart with kindness in it—
If you're gonna shop, begin it
Not next week but now, this minute!
DO IT NOW!

THE KING
(Florence Borner.)
We used to call him Murphy, and we used to call him spud,
And everybody that he was the cheapest kind of grub;
He came upon our table then disguised in many ways,
And ne'er a poet cared to chant a hymnal in his praise.
How changed the scene since yesterday, the thing we once despised
Has risen from its humble rank and now is highly prized;
Like to the golden apples of Hesperides so fair,
He hangs far, far above our reach, we can do naught but stare.
Bring forth the robe of royalty, the scepter and the crown,
Bring forth the throne of massey gold, the jewels of renown;
Then, as we crown our conqueror a song of triumph sing,
Remove your hats, and humbly bow before your new found king.

JUDGE ROBINSON'S STATEMENT ON BAR BOARD RESENTED BY MAJORITY MEMBERS
The following notice of R. Goer and S. E. Ellsworth, members of the state bar board, was submitted to The Tribune as a result of publication of Judge J. E. Robinson's last "Saturday Evening Letter":
"To The Bismarck Tribune Company, Proprietors and Publishers, and to George D. Mann, Editor of The Bismarck Tribune, a daily newspaper published at Bismarck, North Dakota."
"YOU WILL TAKE NOTICE, that the undersigned are members of the State Bar Board of North Dakota and together constitute a majority of the membership of said State Bar Board. That in the issue of the daily publication of The Bismarck Tribune for Saturday, December 3, 1921, there was printed, published and publicly displayed on page four of said issue an article headed and designated "Saturday Evening Letter," purporting to be composed and written by one, J. E. Robinson, containing, with other matter, the following clauses, to-wit: "To evade the constitution, in 1919, laws were passed levying state taxes on most everything." (3) A state tax of $15 a year on poor lawyers to be squandered by an appointive bar board."
You are now and hereby notified that said article, in the parts hereinbefore quoted, is false, scurrilous and defamatory and is maliciously devised and intended by the author thereof to expose the undersigned as members of said State Bar Board to public hatred and to deprive them as state officers of the benefits of public confidence.
And it is now demanded by the undersigned that within three days after the service of this notice, you do cause to be published in the daily issue of The Bismarck Tribune, in as conspicuous a place and type as that of the original article hereinbefore referred to, a full and fair retraction of the false, erroneous and defamatory portions of said article.
Dated December 7th, 1921.
R. GOER
S. E. ELLSWORTH,
Members State Bar Board of North Dakota.
The Tribune prints the statement in fairness to the members of the bar board. Their action was taken at a meeting held here yesterday afternoon. Accounts of the bar board are audited by the state examiner's department and report issued and as far as the Tribune knows payment of funds has been made on proper vouchers and in accordance with law. The letter was, of course, signed by Judge Robinson who assumed full responsibility for his statements. The Tribune has no knowledge of "squandering" of the money in the fund derived from the tax on lawyers.

PEOPLE'S FORUM
Bismarck, N. D., 12-3-21.
The Tribune, Bismarck, N. D.
Dear Editor: The writer is sending a copy of this to Gov. Nestos in hopes that he will do something for a number of married men in this city who are out of employment. I hope you will publish it so that a number of families may be saved from the embarrassment of asking for outside help.
There are a number of cities in the U. S. at present where married women are asked to resign or are discharged from salaried positions in cases where their husband has regular employment. This is done to give employment to other married men who are out of work and have a family to support. Racine, Wisconsin, has gone the limit along this line. Both the city council and the Commercial Club are working to this end.
Right here in Bismarck (to the writer's personal knowledge) there are at least 20 first class married men, men who love their wife and family, seeking work and asking for a position that they can fill nicely. In a number of cases they are told "the place is filled" and on investigation it is found that a married woman is filling the place, and further it is revealed that her husband is drawing down a nice fat salary. There are a dozen or more of such women at the capitol and twice as many more down town. I ask any fair minded man—Is this right?
Dear Governor: Will you kindly help the situation? If you do you will help many a family which is almost down and out right now.
Yours truly,
AN INTERESTED BYSTANDER.

NORTH DAKOTA'S PARADOX
Official Figures Show How Independents Failed to Carry Their Measures, Though Electing Their Candidates—Nonpartisans Also Got Larger Vote for Candidates Than On the Issues.
By Charles B. Cheney,
Minneapolis Journal.
Official returns from the North Dakota recall election explains its contradictory results. The independents elected all their candidates for state office, but lost all the measures they endeavored to put through by legislative petitions. Nonpartisan league leaders have cited this paradox as proof that the majority of North Dakota voters still favor the league program.
Even that contention does not help the league much. It leads to the unfattering conclusion that the majority were unwilling to trust league officials to carry out the program they were supporting so ardently.
Cold figures, however, show that the league commanded fewer votes on issues than on the candidates. Every league was urged to vote "no" on all measures submitted to the people, and nearly all of them did, but there is nothing in the figures to indicate that the league polled any votes on the "issues" that were not cast for its candidates.
On the other hand, several thousand voters who supported Governor R. A. Nestos and his colleagues failed to vote on the initiated laws. So the measures commanded from 7,500 to 10,000 fewer votes than the candidates did.
Here is the result of the official count on the three state officers and on three of the essential initiated measures:
Governor: Nestos, Ind., 111,434; Frazier, N. P., 107,332; Nestos' majority, 4,102.
Attorney General: Johnson, Ind., 112,361; Lemke, N. P., 105,375; Johnson's majority, 6,986.
Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor: Kitchen, Ind., 111,249; Hagan, N. P., 105,914; Kitchen's majority, 5,335.
Debt limit constitutional amendment: Yes, 101,085; No, 104,822; majority against amendment, 3,744.
Industrial Commission act: Yes, 101,428; No, 106,220; majority against law, 4,792.
Rural credits act: Yes, 103,933; No, 105,321; majority against law, 1,388.
Now compare the vote polled on each side on candidates and on measures. Former Governor Lynn J. Frazier got more votes than the league was able to command against any of the measures. His vote of 107,332 was 2,500 in excess of the "no" vote on the debt limit amendment, 1,02 more than the votes against the industrial commission act, and 1,511 more than the votes against the rural credits act.
Attorney General William Lemke was cut somewhat by leagueers, but even he got 104,822 votes, 743 more than the negative vote on the debt limit constitutional amendment. His vote was 655 short of the "no" vote on the industrial commission act, and 246 short of the vote cast against the rural credits act.
On the other hand, Governor Nestos' vote was far larger than the vote for any of the initiated measures, though he did not lead his ticket. His vote of 111,434 exceeded the vote for the debt limit amendment to the state constitution by 10,346, the vote for the industrial commission act by 9,996, and was 7,501 larger than the vote for the rural credits act, the most popular of all the initiated measures.
The two election measures made a worse showing than those affecting the league program. In fact, they undoubtedly helped to defeat the other measures submitted. There was also an element among the independents opposed to the recall, that did so far as to turn out and vote to oust the Nonpartisans, but refused to subscribe to the "semi-socialism" which they thought they detected in the measures submitted. By failing to vote on these, they helped to keep the state government as it was framed by Lemke and his lieutenants. They really imposed a handicap on the men they were electing to take charge of the state government.
When the initiative and the recall are both tried out at the same election, look out for some queer results.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Mike Mole was a most valuable friend, because he was such a fine digger, and not only that, but he knew so many of the gnomes' secrets and hiding places.
So he told the Twins not to worry. "I have tunnels dug everywhere," he assured them, "and the gnomes don't know it, but I have secret passages under every one of their streets and houses. Just follow me."
So Nancy and Nick and Kip, the Brownie, followed Mike through his little corkscrew, curlicue halls this way and that way and every way, turning north and south and then north again without any reason or wherefore, until finally the mole stopped.
"Now shush!" he whispered cautiously. "We're there! Right under Gnome village again. The chief thing first is to get your shoes. And if you get them, keep them. If you should forget another time about saying the forbidden words, and suddenly find yourselves upside down, wish yourselves back into Brownie land at once before the gnomes can steal the shoes from your feet."
"Where are we?" whispered Nancy. "Under Crookabone's cellar," answered the Mole. "Now I'm going to dig up through his floor and when I call, come after me."
Mike disappeared then and they all waited. After while they heard a faint "st. st." over their heads, and one after the other they scrambled up after him as fast as they could go. "The Magic Green Shoes and the key are in the jam cupboard, but I can't open it," said Mike.
Kip picked up his ears. "Here's where I come in, I guess," said he. "Nothing in earth or fairy land can keep a Brownie from jam. I know a charm." And he began: "Apples, peaches, quinces, cherries, Apricots and elderberries. Open the door with greatest haste. That your flavors we may taste!" Instantly the little door swung open. DECISION OF SUPREME COURT From Ramsey County
State of North Dakota, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs. Hiram J. Stepp, Defendant-Appellant.
Syllabus:
1. For reasons stated in the opinion the trial court did not err in making an order appointing special counsel to assist the state's attorney in the prosecution of this case.
2. Where a defendant enters a plea of not guilty to a criminal information the issue framed by such plea remains until disposed of in some proper manner. Such plea is not deemed withdrawn because the defendant subsequently moves to quash the information on the ground that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a public offense.
3. Whether a new trial shall be granted on the ground of newly discovered evidence is primarily a question for the trial court. DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Don't plan your Christmas dinner without remembering that another feast day comes in just a week. Let there be no left-overs from the dinner.

If you have no maid to help you, serve a simple dinner with few courses and decorate the table with tiny Christmas trees and Santas. There is always so much candy at hand during the holidays that the zest of the dinner may well be in the table decorations rather than an over-abundance of food.

A simple Christmas dinner that will require little last minute fussing might be the following:

Grapefruit Cocktail
Baked Ham Twice Baked Potatoes
Glaze Sweet Potatoes
Molded Spinach Waldorf Salad
Frozen Fig Pudding Sponge Cake
Coffee

When the time for preparing dinner arrives, not more than an hour and a half at the most is necessary for this dinner menu. The ham may be boiled the day before, the cocktail prepared and put on ice in a tightly covered glass jar, the nuts cracked and picked off for the salad and the dressing made. In the morning the pudding should be made and packed and the cake baked.

Grapefruit Cocktail
Three grape fruit, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt, maraschino cherries.
Cut grape fruit in half. Remove center fiber with scissors. With a stiff spoon scoop out the fruit between the skin. Care must be taken not to scrape off any of the white rind as this is very bitter. Mix salt and sugar and sprinkle over fruit. Put in jar, cover closely and let stand on ice over night.

Baked Ham
Scrub ham well. Put to soak in cold water to cover for four hours. Bring to the boiling point and simmer till tender, allowing about half an hour for each pound. Take from fire and let ham cool in the liquor. Remove and cut off skin. Sprinkle

MEET LITTLE MISS CHAN—SHE'S CHINESE BEAUTY

By NEA Service.
Baltimore, Dec. 7.—(Girl.) If you lived in China and wanted the young men to bring you boxes of candy or whatever they bring in China, you'd have to look like Chan Shan Chan.

She's the Chinese ideal of beauty. Look at her and then decide what you think about Chinese judgment.

Miss Chan—or Miss Shan, whichever is right—was recently a sweet girl graduate from the True Light Middle School at Canton.

Now she's at Goucher College, Baltimore, where she's planning to take a medical course.

with brown sugar and fine cracker crumbs. Stick with cloves.
Put in roaster and roast an hour in a moderate oven, basting with sweet cider or the vinegar from sweet pickles.

Twice Baked Potatoes
Six large potatoes, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 cup hot milk, 2 eggs (whites), 2 tablespoons grated cheese. Scrub potatoes well with vegetable brush. Bake in a hot oven 1 hour. Remove from oven and cut in halves lengthwise. Scoop out inside. Mash in a hot crock. Beat in butter, salt, pepper and hot milk. Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry and fold in potato. Fill skins, sprinkle with grated cheese and put in a hot oven to brown.

Glaze Sweet Potatoes
Four medium sized sweet potatoes, 1-2 cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1-4 cup water, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon butter.
Pare potatoes and cut in inch slices. Parboil ten minutes. Make a sirup of the sugar and water and butter. Put potatoes in a buttered baking dish and pour over half of the sirup. Sprinkle with cinnamon and bake in a hot oven until brown. Baste with remaining sirup.

Frozen Fig Pudding
One cup figs, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 cups whipping cream, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk.
Wash figs and soak over night in water to cover. Beat eggs with sugar and salt. Scum milk and pour over egg mixture, mixing thoroughly. When figs are tender, rub through fine sieve. Add to milk and egg mixture. Whip cream till firm and combine mixtures. Turn into a mold, pack in ice and salt and let stand for four or five hours.

START MOVE TO AID JOBLESS GIRLS IN NEW YORK

Hundreds Are Suffering Says Y. W. C. A. Head

By NEA Service
New York, Dec. 5.—"White-collared women" in New York have been hard hit by industrial depression.
Ten per cent more stenographers are out of work here today than a year ago, and the pawnshops are full of fur coats.
And while every one is excited about employment among men, no one seems to worry about the girls.
At least, no one did until the Young Women's Christian Association became aware of the situation and started out to remedy it.
Now Mrs. William Fellows Morgan, president of the metropolitan branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, has started a movement to find a job for every girl who needs one.
"The clerical and office workers really are suffering," she says. "There is little unemployment among factory and industrial workers. They're holding their jobs and getting the same high wages as during the war. The college-trained and specialized workers unfit for factory work are the ones hit now."

MRS. WM. FELLOWS MORGAN

SOME 13,150,000 POLICIES ISSUED

New York, Dec. 8.—Reports to the 15th annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents here today were said to indicate that the new insurance issued in the United States in 1932 will amount to 13,150,000 separate policies for $8,331,000,000. This will mark a decrease of three-quarters of one per cent in the number of policies compared with last year, the most prosperous in life insurance history. The amount of new insurance thus would be 15 per cent less than that of last year and 2.6 per cent ahead of that of 1919.

Statistics were presented by John M. Holcombe, president of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn., who said that the 1910 record in new life insurance marks progress rather than retrogression, and an encouraging index of returning normal business conditions.

FEWER DEATHS IN U. S. AND CAN.

New York, Dec. 8.—There were 153,000 fewer deaths in the United States and Canada in 1932 than in 1929, said Robert Lyon Cox, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in an address before the 15th annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents here today.

Mr. Cox presented statistics based upon official records of companies transacting 50 per cent of the life insurance business which he said, may "indicate the dawn of a material long-benign of the span of human life in the two countries." The figures show that this year will be entered on the records as "the healthiest ever experienced." Motor driven vehicles, however, are exacting an alarmingly growing toll of victims.

The statistics, compiled from the mortality experience of 37 companies, covered 2,600,000 human lives which of necessity reflect the general health conditions throughout the country. The most amazing factor in the health situation of the year now drawing to a close, according to Mr. Cox, is the almost complete disappearance of influenza as a cause of death, only 1,716 being reported for 19 months of 1932 as against 25,400 for the corresponding period of 1920, which was not regarded as an epidemic year.

HOLIDAY MENUS

French Celebrate On New Years Day

Sister Mary's Kitchen
To the French housewife Christmas means a day of fasting rather than feasting and her big dinner is served New Years. Christmas Eve is an All Saint night and no meat is served.
But her dinner on New Year's Day! The French cook delights the eye as well as the palate and no dish is sent to the table without its garnish and decoration. The capon wears a necklace of cranberries with a bunch of parsley tucked under his chin-like, while a huge lace effect, cut from paper, fans out where his tail was.
The French dinner is served without butter. If bread is served it accompanies the first courses.
This is a typical New Year dinner translated into English:
Honeycomb Tripe Clear Bouillon
Salmon in Ramekins Capon
Browned Potatoes Cauliflower au Gratin
Lemon Ice Unsweetened Waters
Romain Salad Plum pudding Glaze
Raisins Fresh Fruits Nuts
Cheese Maroon Glaze
Wafers
Black Coffee
The "hors d'oeuvre" is simple. The honeycomb tripe is cut in narrow strips, fried in butter and served on a thin piece of toast. The whole is served on a paper doily on a small plate and garnished with parsley.
The fish course was chosen for its color. A choice cut of salmon is boiled. Season with salt and pepper and lemon juice. Put a small piece in a paper ramekin, add a ring of pickled beet and inside this put a slice of olive stuffed with almond, serve on a paper doily or a small plate with parsley.
The bouillon is served with tiny forcemeat balls.
For Meat Balls
One-half pound lean veal, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-4 cup cream, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-16 teaspoon nutmeg, very narrow strips lemon rind.
Chop meat very finely. Melt butter, stir in flour and add cream, stirring constantly. Cook until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan. Let cool and pound in the meat. Add egg and pound until thoroughly mixed. Rub through a sieve. Shape in tiny marbles and poach in boiling water. Twist a strip of lemon rind around each ball and put one or two in each cup of bouillon.
The capon is carefully buttered inside. Two or three cloves are stuck in the cavity and the stuffing is made very dry and with chestnuts. The nuts should be boiled and then coarsely chopped. They mix with coarse bread crumbs, perfectly free from crusts, season with salt and pepper and a tiny bit of nutmeg and make just moist enough with melted butter.
Romain Salad.
The Romain is carefully crisped and dried and chilled. Arrange on a salad plate. Add 1 slice tomato, 1 slice green pepper. Fill pepper with cream cheese mixed with chopped almonds and olives. Serve with French dressing.
The dessert of plum pudding glaze is a plum pudding covered with spun sugar. To make the glaze, melt 1 cup of granulated sugar with 1 tablespoon water. When a pale straw color remove from fire and with a wire whisk shake over and around the pudding removed from its mold. The sugar nests and covers the pudding most attractively.
No French dinner is complete without maroon glaze. Large French chestnuts are shelled and cooked in a thin sirup till tender. The nuts are

INGROWN NAIL

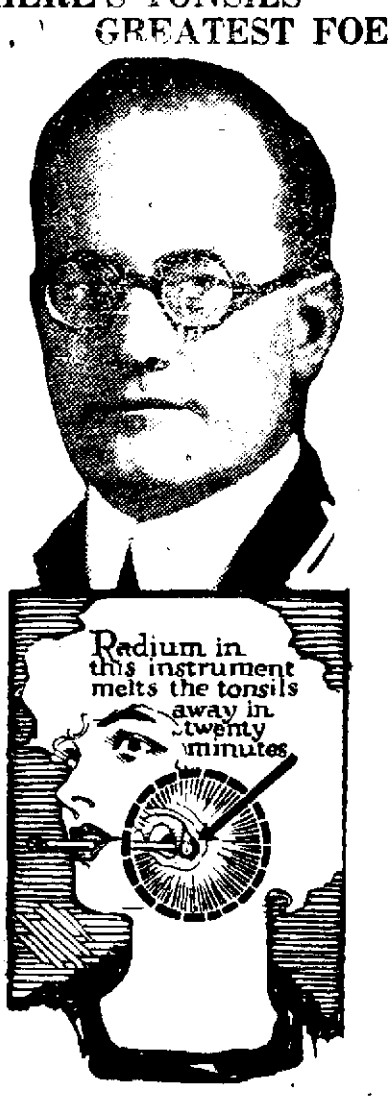

Toe Nail Turns Out Itself if You Toughen Skin
A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward. Most over night.
"Outgro" is a home-made, antiseptic manufactured for chemists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

DANNY MURPHY IS THE MARCONI OF BASEBALL

(By Billy Evans)

Danny Murphy of the Philadelphia Athletics is the Marconi of Baseball. In the words of the Marconi system, Murphy is the Marconi of Baseball.

All of which means that Danny Murphy is a man of great importance. He is a man who can tell you what is coming by the pitcher's delivery.

Get a hold of it. It is the way of the pitcher. It is the way of the batter. It is the way of the pitcher. It is the way of the batter.

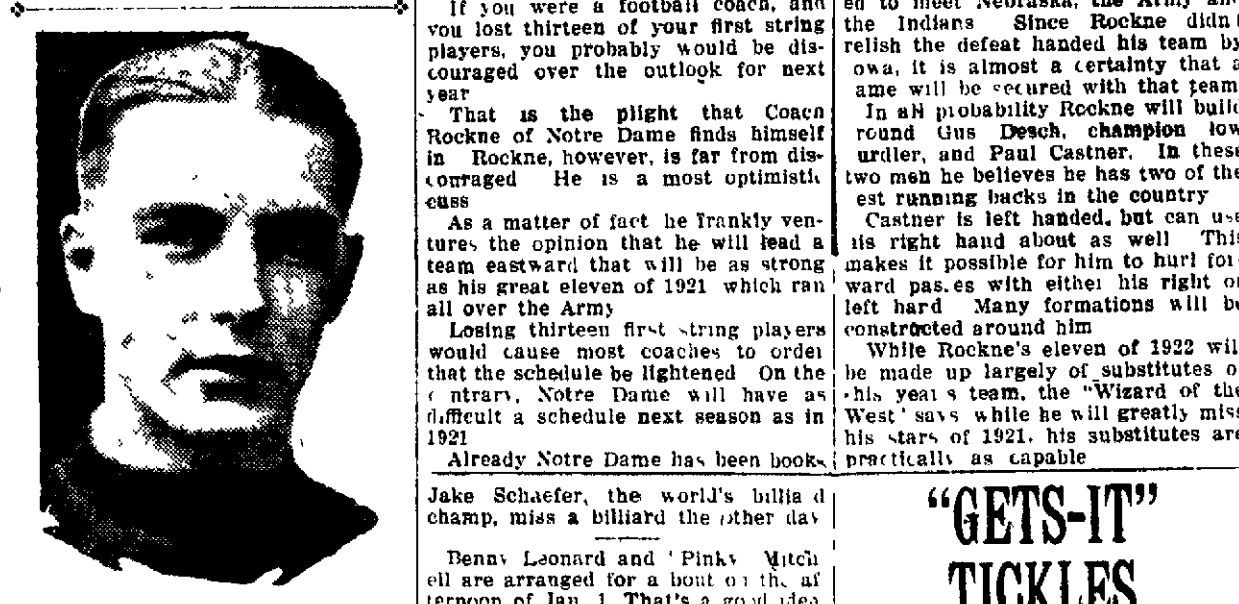

Not today, he answered. It is as easy to get the pitcher's delivery as it is to get the batter's delivery. It is the way of the pitcher. It is the way of the batter.

I asked Danny how he did it. He explained his methods. They seemed easy after I had gotten the key. He showed how he always held the ball a trifle differently in throwing the curve instead of the fast one. The moment Hoyt gets up over his head, he tips off his stuff. It is then time enough for Murphy to flash it to the batter.

"In all my experience," said Murphy, "I don't believe I have seen a dozen pitchers who throw the various deliveries without a noticeable difference. It seems a physical impossibility for most of them not to have some tell-tale motion. I watch every pitcher carefully, and if he has a weakness in his delivery I get it. The rest is easy."

American League pitchers will frankly admit that when pitching against the Athletics, they realize every ball is being tipped off and yet they are unable to conceal what is coming. Murphy certainly is a wonder.

HE'S MODERN SUPERMAN

(George Bunge)

When speaking of Superman don't overlook George Bunge, star center of the University of Wisconsin football team.

During the three years that he has played on the varsity team at Wisconsin, Bunge hasn't lost a single game.

He is unquestionably the most strenuous of all sports yet Bunge seems to have thrived on it. Last year and this season he was generally picked as the best center in the Western Conference.

Calling 'Em Right

(By Roy Grove)

Tommy Gibbons is looking for a fight. He is looking for a fight. He is looking for a fight. He is looking for a fight.

It takes longer to explain a racing match than it does to race one.

It just came to me. Judge Landis is sore because Washington Cross didn't ask him to be the referee with them.

Our idea of having nothing to do is watching a racing match.

Cheer up everybody. You don't know how a racing match is.

College Chatter

Center college is a big attraction in football. Already Charley Moran's eleven has been booked for six games away from home next year.

Harvard seems to have made an excellent choice in Buell for captain of next year's eleven. Buell is one of the brainiest quarterbacks of the year and an ideal field general.

Here is the big joke of the year in college circles. Graduate Manager Thurston of Syracuse university sent a letter to Goucher college in Baltimore requesting a baseball date. Then he learned that Goucher is exclusively a woman's college.

Lafayette college seems to have satisfied the press of the east that the players under suspicion on the Lafayette eleven are in perfectly good standing. Professionalism was the charge.

One would imagine that it would be possible to throw a baseball twice as far as a football. Yet such is not the case. The baseball record held by Sheldon Letourneau is 428 feet 9 1/2 inches. Mohardt of Notre Dame, Workman of Ohio State, Miller of California and Sively of Princeton have made passes in practice from 50 to 60 yards.

Field men seem to be the choice for the captaincy of most of the football elevens for 1927.

A number of Princeton football stars shine in other sports. Halfback Garvin and Gilroy are crack hockey players. End Stinson is captain of the swimming team. Wittmer, star center, is a big man in basketball. Quarterback Lurie is a track star.

George Owen, Harvard football star, is an all-around athlete. He is captain of the hockey team and finds he is the only member of last year's team in college. With hockey over he goes right into baseball.

SPORT ANGLE

Eastern critics are of the opinion that the football world really has no idea of what a great player Captain Aldrich of Yale really is.

I watched the work of Aldrich closely in the Yale-Princeton game, and marvelled at his great work. While not a dandy player, Aldrich seems able to do all the things a bigger man can do, and stand up under the strain.

He is fleet of foot. Picks his spots with excellent judgment. Can hit the line almost as well as he can skirt the ends. He can throw or receive the forward pass. He is a fine drop kicker, also punter. He showed this in the Princeton game by contributing two beautiful field goals from drop.

Those six points were Yale's margin of victory.

In the Princeton game, Aldrich played remarkable football. I am sorry I didn't get a chance to see him against Harvard. He was even more brilliant in that battle.

Here is the comment of one of the best known football critics in the east on the worth of Aldrich.

"Aldrich is the greatest backfield man of all time except Ned Mahan. That statement includes 30 years' observation. He is greater than Coville, Thorpe, Barrett, Oliphant, Thorne, O'Neil, Weekes, Eckersall, Stevenson, Casey, Davies, Butterworth, Killinger and Hollenback."

That is certainly some praise, coming from an expert, who has been looking over eastern football for 30 years. However, on what Aldrich showed me in the Yale-Princeton game I would say it was justified.

Aldrich is not only a football star, but equally great as baseball. It is said a half dozen major league clubs have already bid for his services.
